"TRUTH is MIGHTY, and WILL PREVAIL."

Sworn Statement

—OF A—

BOSTON POLICE OFFICER

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—From exposure I took sick about nine years ago with Rheumatic Fever, from which I suffered about four months. When I recovered from the fever I found myself suffering with pain in my side and constipation, which brought on the piles. I consulted a physician, and paid him over $200 for attending me, and all the while I was gradually growing worse. Then one physician after another was employed, until seven of the best physicians of Boston had taken my case in hand.

On consultation between several of the leading physicians, they concluded my complaint was asthma and general debility. I had great difficulty in breathing, and an inhaler was required to afford me breath. Through the treatment of one physician I took from 75 to 100 boxes of calomel pills, and faithfully tried all the medicine that each physician described. From my long sickness, and the vast amount of medicine used to overcome the great pain, my kidneys became badly affected, and I suffered excruciating pain in the small of my back, with great difficulty in passing my urine.

One physician said I was deceased all through my system, and he regretted that he could give me no hope for health. My suffering from indigestion was so great that it was impossible to keep any solid food on my stomach, and the whole nature of my food was broth from oatmeal.

I also took a prescription from a celebrated English physician, who said my trouble was Bronchitis and Dyspepsia. I took 18 bottles of medicine especially prepared for Dyspepsia, and I have used a great deal of medicine from apothecaries' prescription. I have taken Sarsaparilla until you could count the bottles by the dozen, and indeed I have given nearly all the popular advertised medicine a fair trial. I had a dreadful cough, and did not average over 2 hours' sleep a night for 8 years.

A brother policeman urged me to try Vegetine, but for a long time I refused, having got completely discouraged from taking so much medicine without any benefit; however, after urgent persuasion I concluded to try it, and before I had used one bottle I could eat and hold on my stomach a beefsteak, a thing I had not been able to do before for years; indeed, I obtained more substantial benefit from the first bottle of Vegetine than from all other medicines which I had taken. I kept on improving, and kept on using the Vegetine, until I was perfectly cured and able to do duty all day, eat and digest my food, slept well at night, and I am 40 pounds heavier than I ever was before in my life, and am, as I think, a living contradiction of the prophecies of the most learned medical talent of New England, for with all of their combined wisdom they could not accomplish so much as that simple vegetable medicine called Vegetine, to which I am indebted for health, life, and happiness.

EUGENE E. SULLIVAN,
367 Athens street, Police Station 4.

SUFFOLK ss., BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 22d, 1875.

Then personally appeared the above named Eugene E. Sullivan, and made oath that the foregoing statement is true, before me, HOSEA B. BOWEN, Justice of the Peace.

FURTHER PROOF.

FACTS WILL TELL

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—Allow me to say a word in favor of VEGETINE. During the past year I have suffered from a complication of diseases. I laid in bed from the 3d of November until the middle of the following June, and on an average did not sit up two hours a week; I had eight of the best physicians in the state, but got no help, and constantly grew worse. They agreed that I had heart disease, phthisis, pyaemia and kidney complaint, and could never be any better. I was reduced in weight 60 pounds, which is much for I am naturally thin.

In June, finding I was failing under the treatment of the physicians, I commenced the use of VEGETINE, through the earnest persuasion of friends, and I am happy to state, with good results. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and can sit up all day, walk half a mile and ride etc.

I am greatly encouraged, and shall continue using the VEGETINE if I can get it. I am a poor man, but for the truth of this statement I refer to any man in Goffstown or vicinity. Yours, very thankfully,

A. J. BURDICK,
Goffstown, N. H.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

THE PLYMOUTH CHURCH MATTERS.

Rev. Dr. Storrs's Statement.—His Opinion of the Advisory Council.

NEW YORK, March 12.

The Church of the Pilgrims, of which Rev. Dr. Storrs is pastor, was crowded tonight by a highly intelligent congregation, anxious to hear the views which it had been announced he would deliver in regard to the recent advisory council and its decisions. The usual Sunday evening sermon was dispensed with and instead Dr. Storrs read his statement on the subject in question. He made his statement he said, upon the advice of a gentleman connected with his church. It had been said he was not in sympathy with Congregationalism, it seemed proper that he should give his reasons for his withdrawing from the position of president of the American Congregational Union and membership in the board of directors. In regard to the troubles of Plymouth church, he had never taken any part in them, and would not do so now. He characterized the recent advisory council, although composed of a very intelligent body of men, as one of no great moral weight. It was large in membership, however, and represented a constituency of 36,611. He thought the previous Congregational council had much more weight, because it was not composed of delegates known to be favorable to Plymouth church. He knew there were in the late council very many delegates favorable to Plymouth church, and this fact would throw some light on the strange result arrived at. He referred to the facts that while here, the delegates were specially cared for by Plymouth church. He condemned the rules laid down by this council for the admission of members and guidance of Congregational churches. He condemned the construction of the manner of communion which opened its doors to all who sought admittance, and excluded the examination by the church of the forger, the adulterer and the maligner, merely dropping their names from the roll on account of absence from the church. He thought the recent advisory council improper, as it tended to cause innumerable councils to be called. He thought the council had without intention, heaped dirt on the great doctrines of the Lord, and had spread protecting wings over the pastor of Plymouth church. According to the doctrines of the Catholic church, the unchristian character of the priest made no difference to the members, insofar as the efficacy of the sacrament was concerned, but it would be hard to make Protestants accept such a view. Such a council as had been called would have about as much effect as a brush of feathers in clearing out a mine. The request from the church in Andover to Plymouth church was perfectly proper and the council went out of its way to deal with the matter. The council had no more right to deal with the matter than it had to conduct the trial of General Babcock.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Pendleton Scandal.

WASHINGTON, March 12.

The committee on war expenditures will soon get at work on the post-traderships investigation, a considerable number of post-traders being already here or on their way under subpoena. The proceedings of tomorrow in the Pendleton matter are anticipated with lively interest, though the belief is confidently asserted by the Democrats that the lead in that direction will quickly peter out. There was some suspicion that the Democratic members of the committee would give Pendleton a private hearing today, as they did Marsh on the 28th ult., but up to this evening there is no reason to think that has been done.

The Soldiers' Bounty Bill,

reported by the military committee to the House on Saturday, and specially assigned for consideration on the 28th instant, is identical with the bill which was passed by both branches concurrently last session, but too late to obtain the signature of the President. It gives each non-commissioned officer, musician, artificer, wagoner and private soldier, sailor and marine, including those borne on the rolls as slaves and Indians who served between April 12, 1861, and May 9, 1865, eight dollars and one-third per month, deducting all bounties already paid under United States or state laws. The sum required is estimated variously between $30,000,000 and $150,000,000, and it is hardly necessary to say that the chances of its becoming a law are exceedingly slender.

The Geneva Award.

The House judiciary committee has agreed to report the bill for the further distribution of the Geneva award, known as the Frye bill, which they will present on Tuesday next. This provides for the adjudication and payment, first, for damages by what are called the "exculpated cruisers"; second, for war pensions, and, third, claims of insurance companies. There will be about $12,000,000 to satisfy the claims under this bill.

The Democratic Financiers.

The soft-money men appeared to be a little less stuffy than heretofore in the Democratic caucus last evening, and the other side is so much encouraged as to hope that they will, after all, be persuaded to consent to something like the Payne bill.

The Safe-Burglary Conspiracy.

The Hon. H. H. Wells, district attorney for the District, appeared before the House judiciary committee yesterday, and submitted various papers connected with the safe-burglary conspiracy case, which are needed by the committee as a basis for its investigation into the matter. Mr. Wells was asked by the committee why Nettleship was not prosecuted, and replied that it was on account of an arrangement which had been entered into with him whereby, in consideration of immunity from prosecution, he was to divulge all he knew concerning the transaction. Witness was then asked if Nettleship had made the disclosure and replied that he had. Without proceeding farther the committee adjourned.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ANOTHER WESTERN TORNADO.

Damage Done in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Iowa. Many Lives Lost. A Village Destroyed.

QUINCY, Ill., March 12.

The Whig has the following report of the effects of the storm in Missouri last night: The hurricane came from the southwest, and struck Elizabethtown, on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, about 4 o'clock. Some seventeen houses were prostrated, five persons killed and several injured, some fatally.

At Hasson, on the same road, three dwellings and one railroad depot were blown down, and three persons killed.

Wither's mills, near Hannibal, Mo., were blown down, but no one was injured. The damage to lumber and fences was very great, and it is thought that further reports will show much greater loss of life in the neighborhoods not heard from.

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 12.

Accounts of the tornado which passed over a part of northeastern Missouri, Friday, say the little town of Shrinkey, in Monroe county, was entirely demolished. Two persons were killed, and twenty wounded, some seriously, at Kensaler Station, on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad. Two children were carried away by the storm and are not yet found.

The wife and child of Allen Johnson, residing four miles from Hannibal, were instantly killed. The destruction of houses, barns, outbuildings, stock, fences, stacks of grain, &c., have been very great. The tornado was about two hundred yards wide, and hummed along the earth like a rubber belt.

DUBUQUE, March 12.

The damage to property in the Hazel Green disaster was $40,000 to $50,000. The tornado levelled everything in the town from southwest to northeast for a space of about 80 rods in width. The houses were taken up and borne, in some cases one hundred feet from the foundations. At 10 o'clock today the funerals of the nine persons killed took place and the bodies were interred in the cemetery at Hazel Green.

CATASTROPHE IN NORWICH.

Burning of the Poorhouse.—Four Inmates Probably Perished.

NORWICH, March 12.

The town poorhouse was burned tonight. There were fifty-five inmates, four of whom are missing, and are believed to be burned. Loss about $15,000; insurance $500.

BOILER EXPLOSION ON AN EGYPTIAN TRANSPORT.

LONDON, March 13.

While the Egyptian steamer Samanoud, with troops on board for Massowah, was at Suez, her boiler exploded and twenty-four men were killed.

ARNIM'S PROPERTY TO BE SEQUESTRATED.

A Berlin dispatch reports that in consequence of the indictment of Count Von Arnim in the high court of state for treason, his property will henceforth be sequestrated.

PERSONALS.

......John Bertram of Salem was the man who destroyed $30,000 of mortgages which he held against poor people a few days ago.

......Perhaps Mr. Roscoe Conkling still thinks the coming Summer will be a good time for a Grant man to be a candidate for the Presidency.—[Cin. Com'l, 6th.

......Republicanism means honesty and not theft; and when a nominal Republican steals in office his party repudiates him. Would to God the Democratic party had done the same with its rogues! But here is Governor Tilden, on the witness stand, admitting his reception from William M. Tweed of corruption funds, which everybody except Tilden knew were stolen from the people of the city of New York. But Tilden is a "reformer"—heaven save the mark!—[Troy Times.

......Henry S. Robinson, the Republican candidate for governor of Connecticut, was a member of the somewhat famous class of 1853 of Yale. Other members of the class are Judge Edward C. Billings, of Louisiana; Mr. Isaac H. Bromley, Congressman Randall L. Gibson, Charlton T. Lewis, Hon. Wayne McVeagh, District Attorney Benjamin K. Phelps, Mr. George W. Smalley, Mr. Edmund C. Stedman and President Andrew D. White.

......Since 1869 Mr. Sherman has done everything in his power to lead his party toward specie payments, and we believe he has done nothing inconsistent with that object. At the same time he has studiously endeavored to keep the party together, and has refused to go farther or faster than he thought the party would follow. He still observes that rule, and having secured the committal of the party to the act of 1875, he feels that it will not be abandoned. He is right.—[N. Y. Times.

......If Secretary Belknap had twice a week stood upon the floor of the House, could he have been for years in the receipt of a corrupt and fraudulent income? If Secretary Fish were taking part in the debates of the Senate, could General Schenck have remained for a year in London in the odor of the Emma Mine? Publicity (in advance) and responsibility are the two pieces of artillery which can alone be turned with effect upon the spirit of corruption.—[Daily Advertiser.

......It was a dreadful mistake to suppose that the great poets and orators of the South perished with the old regime. There is in the following paragraph from the Raleigh Sentinel a touch of the old luxuriance: "Curly-locked and pomatumed, sweet-scented as a camomile blossom, and smiling as a nigger's pet possum in persimmon time, hyacinthine Roscoe Conkling waltzes nimbly to the front, the fairest pink in the dog-kennel garden of radical Presidential aspirants."

......The resignation of Dr. Storrs from his church, and his retirement from the Congregational organization, is only the beginning of the trouble that is to come. The Advisory council raised an issue to screen Plymouth church and its pastor, which Dr. Storrs, Dr. Budington and others must meet. The New York Graphic, commenting upon the situation, says: "It is not exactly the question whether they shall quit the body to which they belong to join another, but whether that body shall be compelled to bear the odium which attaches to an affair like this for which it is not responsible. The majority of Congregationalists believe in the ten commandments, and will be slow to allow what were intended as safeguards of liberty to be used to cover up a crime and protect its perpetrator."

......The people of New Hampshire who have the privilege of listening to Gen. Garfield on the stump should ask him why it was that the military committee of the House, of which he was chairman four years ago, did not take any notice of Gen. Hazen's circumstantial statement of the Fort Sill business, which was made before the committee under a vigorous cross-examination. Gen. Hazen's story was printed in the papers at the time, and the President's attention called to it. The President told Belknap he did not believe it. Hazen afterwards seemed to be unpopular at the War Department, and was ordered to a distant post. If the Republican committee over which Gen. Garfield presided had done its plain duty four years ago, this explosion would not have shaken up the party now.—[Boston Herald.

......We regret to see a tendency on the part of the more licentious of the independent press, (whose slanderous statements cannot be too seriously deprecated) to question the manner in which Gen. Schenck was allowed to slide out of his ambassadorial office. The appointment of his successor while he is still ploughing "the briny," indicates to those ignoble intelligences that his resignation must have been accepted before he left England, and that he was saved from a very disagreeable legal process abroad by a trick. Gen. Schenck would undoubtedly justify his act, if not the President's, by the rules of that noble game in which he is a standard authority, which provides that a player is not obliged to show his hand unless his opponent "sees it." The President is also an adept of this game, and he generally has a "full" and a "flush" much oftener than a "straight."—[Boston Herald.

......It must be remembered that American history did not begin with the inauguration of President Grant. He took a thoroughly demoralized government. He inherited all the vices and abuses of his unfortunate predecessor, who was impeached at the bar of the Senate for high crimes and misdemeanors. He found the present bad civil service system in operation, and so imbedded in the organization of parties and so linked in with the ambitions of politicians, that it was impossible for him to change it. Though he tried to reform the system, the members of Congress of both parties combined to throttle his scheme after it had been fairly initiated. The system which has produced such baleful results was inaugurated by Jackson and the Democracy in 1829, and over since that time has wrought increasing demoralization.—[Graphic, 8th.

......At just about the same period in Washington's Presidential career that this Belknap blight has fallen on General Grant's administration, Edmund Randolph, secretary of state, was accused of accepting bribes to influence, the policy of the country in favor of France, and against Great Britain. * * * Randolph resigned. The President at once not only accepted the resignation, but kept its cause a profound secret, until Randolph should be able to construct a defence! * * * Chief Justice Marshall states that the newspapers of the time hurled upon the original proprietor of the little hatchet every epithet and charge the imagination could invent. They not only attacked his administration, his "cronies," his kitchen cabinet, his obscure men lifted to place, while old chaps indorsed by the party were ignored, but they with equal virulence raided upon his private life, his personal habits, and even his business honesty, accusing him of personal peculation upon the federal treasury. * * * The best Presidents the country has ever had have been the most abused, just as the most clubs are found under the best apple tree.—[Chicago Post, 6th.

MONDAY, MARCH 13, 1876.

THE DAY.

It is reported that Daniel Drew went into bankruptcy on Saturday.

The grand jury of the District of Columbia think it will be impossible to find an indictment against Belknap unless Marsh's testimony can be had. The judiciary committee is also at a stand-still on articles of impeachment for a similar reason.

In five small townships along the Danube 521 houses collapsed from the 7th to the 9th instant, in consequence of the foundations being damaged by the floods. In Pesth and its suburbs it is impossible to count the houses ruined. Four hundred square miles of Winter corn are lost to Hungary.

A terrific rain and thunder storm occurred on Friday afternoon, extending from Quincy, Illinois, to the northern portion of Iowa. Many lives were lost and a large number of buildings demolished. Three towns in Missouri were also struck by the hurricane, with destruction of life and property.

In the national House of Representatives on Saturday, the bill appropriating $100,000 for the relief of the Indians at the Red Cloud agency was passed. The legislative appropriation bill was discussed, Mr. Seelye of Massachusetts making a speech in favor of hard money. Remarks on the same subject were also made by Messrs. Willis and Hunter.

A terrible landslide occurred at Caub, Germany, Friday night, caused by the rains. Eight houses, containing about thirty persons, were buried. Detachments of pioneer regiments have arrived to afford aid in extricating the sufferers from the debris. Thus far three persons have been rescued alive, and five bodies have been recovered.

THE REMEDY.

The political situation is becoming more and more unsatisfactory to the American people. Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans, as party organizations have the confidence of the masses. The next election is likely to be decided more by the character of the men who appear as candidates, than by the parties they are supposed to represent. No man can hope to be chosen to the Presidency whose private character is not above reproach. This is a healthful feature of the approaching canvass, but the great thing needed is a reform in home politics. No administration can be purer and better than are the people who create it. An honest President cannot make sure of an honest government. Thousands of subordinates must be called into service, and these will surely partake of the spirit and temper of the localities from which they are selected. The present condition of affairs affords an illustration of what we mean, and furnishes a lesson which we may well heed. That President Grant is an honest man none but the most narrow-minded partisan will deny. Exposed as he has been to the bitterest personal attacks, such as his war record would surely produce from his defeated enemies in the South and their sympathizers over the whole country, and followed with a malignity unequalled in American politics, he has stood and still stands unsullied as to his personal integrity. He has made mistakes in his choice of men and has put bad men in office but not those whom he knew or believed to be bad men at the time. In the present condition of things this can scarcely be avoided. If local politics are corrupt and local politicians dishonest, then any administration must be afflicted as the present has been, for subordinate offices must be filled from the ranks. Those who cry for reform therefore, should work for it at home. Respectable men must take charge of home politics and cure the evil at the root. When the people who cry out against corruption become themselves pure, they will secure a pure administration of public affairs. And not until then. As it is, those who cry out most lustily against corruption are often, not to say generally, themselves most corrupt, and their judgment of others is simply a reflection of what there is within their own souls.

A GAME FOR A WIFE.—The New York papers describe how a husband got anchored in that city the other day. It appears that some five years ago an industrious barber named Louis Lange married a young lady named Hoffman after a courtship of only two weeks. Their married life did not prove to be of the happiest character, and finally the two separated, the husband going to Chicago, and the wife to the home of her parents. Here the wife met the groomsman, Claus Doscher, who officiated at her wedding. After waiting two years without hearing from her husband Mrs. Lange married Doscher. Last week Lange returned to New York, and, intent on being more happy in the future, sought his wife to make amends for his previous ill treatment. He was horrified to find her the wife of his groomsman, but after considerable self-communion he decided to arrange the affair amicably. So, with a mutual friend who was acquainted with all the parties, he called on her, and after a conversation of some half hour's duration the rival husbands agreed to settle the matter by a game of euchre. In the earlier part of the game fortune seemed to be in favor of Doscher, and he speedily scored nine of ten points necessary to win, but there he stopped, and Lange slowly and by "one" scored up to the same figure. The woman, as the game progressed, left her seat and took a place by the side of her second husband. All those in the room gathered around the table, and as Lange took a trick an audible sigh came from the woman, but as Doscher laid out trump after trump she seemed relieved, and when he had made the winning point she saluted him with a hearty kiss. Lange for a moment seemed angry, but said: "Well, Doscher, old boy, she ain't worth fighting over; here's joy to you with her," and he quaffed a tankard of foaming beer.

HOW HE SWINDLED A BANK.—The Springfield Republican gives the particulars respecting the forgeries alleged to have been committed by Milton D. Knowles, a former clerk in the First National Bank of Westfield. Knowles had served the usual three years in the bank, and was afterwards engaged as book-keeper for six months, this last term expiring Nov. 24th last. On the evening of the day previous, Cashier Hooker, as is his custom, signed two blank drafts on the Fourth National Bank of New York, for use in case the drafts were called for before he arrived at the bank in the morning. These drafts, it is claimed, Knowles took, early the morning of the 24th, and filled up the "stubs" in the draft-book, one as "E. A. Joyner, $10," and the other, "F. W. Durant, $11," putting $21 into the cash drawer, so that the cash account at night footed correctly. Everything appeared right to the bank officials, who had no suspicion of Knowles's honesty until about a month after his leaving; when the draft entered on the stub as $10 came in payment from a St. Louis bank for $5000, bearing date Nov. 22d, and payable to the order of Edward D. Rude, endorsed over to H. W. Knowles. This the Westfield bank people retained, and shortly after the other draft, entered on the stub as $11, came in for $8350, payable and endorsed as the first. Knowles returned to Westfield of his own accord, Tuesday night, with his young wife, and stopped with his parents. While it was not Knowles's duty to make out drafts, he had several times done so under cashier Hooker's instructions, and it is a question whether, under those circumstances, he can be found guilty of embezzlement. The Westfield bank losses nothing, neither does the St. Louis bank, as they simply retained the $8350 draft and forwarded it for collection or advice, but the bank at Denver, Col., is out $200, which they advanced on the $5000 draft. The culprit is about 22, and up to the time of the discovery of his forgeries his character for honesty was unimpeached. He is well connected, his father being a whip manufacturer, and quite wealthy.

THE MASONIC BROTHERHOOD IN THE WAR.—The efficacy of the "sign of the mystic tie" was never better illustrated than by an incident that occurred on the field of Cedar Creek, which was related to me at Harper's Ferry, four months after by the chief actor in it, a captain in a New Hampshire regiment. He was wounded among the first, before daylight, and was too badly hurt to be taken from the field. The first lines of the Confederates swept past in pursuit without observing him, and he was first seen by a surgeon who followed in the rear. At this time his wound was bleeding copiously, he was tormented with thirst, and his condition was critical. He called out to the surgeon as he passed to help him. "Where are you hurt?" the latter carelessly asked. "I am hurt in three different places," was the reply, and the sufferer mentioned them, making an appropriate sign for each. The surgeon instantly recognized a brother of that order whose disciples are found in every land under the sun; he stopped, gave him the best attention and relief that the time and place admitted of, had him conveyed to the rear at the first opportunity, and was unremitting in his attentions and good offices from that time until he had procured his exchange. Per contra—the feeling in New Orleans was so intense against the federal troops at the time that Butler was relieved by Banks in January, 1863, that the people of that city refused all Masonic fellowship with them.

Dr. Levi P. Wagner, surgeon of the 111th New York (since deceased), and one of the most accomplished and proficient Masons in the country, stated that he and others of our army frequently obtained admission to lodges in New Orleans in citizen's dress, but that, upon their military character being discovered, all Masonic work was instantly stopped and not resumed until they had left.—[New York Times.

PRECOCIOUS PETTICOAT FOOT-PAD.—A juvenile highway robber in petticoats has lately been arrested in Baltimore, whose crimes appear to have been of a peculiar order. The culprit is a little rosy-cheeked girl only ten years old, named Anna Cowley. She was brought into court charged with snatching money from children in the streets, and the facts brought out in the court disclosed unusual cunning and capacity for crime in one so young. She was prettily dressed, rather stout in person, and quite composed if not indifferent to the gravity of her position as she sat in the criminal's dock. The girl's victims were all children. Two of them testified against her, the other being regarded as incompetent on account of want of knowledge of what an oath is. One of her victims, a little boy, testified that he was on his way to pay a grocer's bill for his father with a $20 note, when the girl said to him on the street you have lost your money. He quickly opened his pocket-book, and taking out the bill said, "No I have not," when she seized it and fled. In another case when she got $1.12 from a little girl who had been to Broadway market, and had the money in her basket, the artful thief helped to carry the basket until she secured the money. She then said you have lost your money, and went back to look for it, but did not return. The only sign of feeling she gave was when about to be removed to jail after conviction. Her distressed mother, who was in court all the time, gave way to her grief, and then for the first time the little girl shed a flood of tears. She was taken to jail until the judge can send her to some house of reformation by consent of the managers, her mother having pleaded with the court not to send her to the Maryland industrial school for girls, to which the court can commit her by law.

A French clerical journal, quoted by the Revue Scientifique, maintains that the tolling of the church bell is of much greater efficacy that the use of lightning-rods in warding off the effects of the thunder storm, and advises the faithful to resort to the former means in preference to the latter.

The sagacity of the dog was again plainly shown recently near Alfred, Me. The engineer of a train of cars approaching that place saw a Newfoundland dog on the track, and tried to frighten him off by sounding his whistle. As the dog did not move, he stopped the train, and then found that just around the curve, close by, was an ox team fast to the track.

An inquisitive but badly posted Briton went down to visit Mount Vernon not long since, and after making many inquiries, and noting down the answers, he said to the Superintendent: "Ah! may I hask you if General Washington was in the harmy?" "He was, sir," replied the superintendent. "And on which side, Union or Rebel?" "Rebel, sir," was the reply, which was carefully noted down.

He was telling her of Belknap's disgrace, and casually remarked that there was a woman at the bottom of it, as there always was in the troubles of men. But after he had crawled out from under the bed and apologized, he gathered the children around him and told them that a woman was a holy and beautiful thing. So it is that trifles change our views of life. A flat-iron—aye, even an inexpensive rolling pin—may be the humble instrument to teach a man that the hay loft is a good enough place for him to sleep in.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The Democrats held a caucus at the state house Saturday evening to elect six delegates to attend the state convention to be held in Providence on the 16th inst. The meeting was called to order by John Eldred, Gilbert Chase was elected chairman and Michael F. Shea, secretary. James Rudolph and John Eldred were nominated but before the vote was put George Howland had considerable to say about the corruptness of the Republican party and he referred to the recent Washington scandal. He wanted none but good honest Democrats elected and he had thought of a man after his own heart,—Stephen P. Slocum,—who was a consistent representative of the party and he would nominate him for first delegate.

The janitor of the station house stepped forward and said he was authorized to say that Mr. Slocum did not want the position and that if elected he would not attend the convention.

The vote was then taken on the nomination of Rudolph and Eldred, the former having 11 votes and the latter 9.

Henry D. DeBlois, and Michael Butler were nominated for second delegate. DeBlois had 10 votes and Butler 17.

John Fadden, Peleg Bryer, William Hodges and George W. Flagg were elected delegates without opposition. The delegates were authorized to fill vacancies. The caucus then adjourned.

The sting of a bee carries conviction with it. It makes a man a bee-liever at once.

There is nothing very original in a money market report. It is too full of quotations.

A certain woman, never a widow, frequently speaks of her "late husband," because he never gets home till after midnight.

The Chinese government wants to borrow ten million taels. The Lowell Courier suggests that they be cut from ten million Chinamen's heads.

What is the difference between a trumpeter and a hornet? Why, the trumpeter is a cornet of horse, and the other is a hornet of course.

The street cars in Constantinople are never overcrowded. As soon as they get too heavy the fellows who draw them stop, sit down, cross their legs, and take a smoke.

A new kind of door hinge has been invented. Its peculiarity is that the door not only shuts quickly and noiselessly, but it hits the person who leaves the door open a fierce blow on his back.

"Max" wants to know how he may break through the conventionality which compels him to leave his girl at half-past ten. Give a minister $1.50 and tell him to put a stop to it.—N. Y. Herald.

A doctor attending a punster who was very ill, apologized for being late one day by saying that he had to stop to see a man who had fallen down a well. "Did he kick the bucket, doctor?" groaned the punster.

In England they tell how Sankey walked up to a grenadier, and, taking him affectionately by the belt, said, "Young man, I like-wise am a soldier, a soldier of heaven." "Old 'un," returned the grenadier, "you're a long way from your barracks, anyhow."

"It's only the wealthy who can afford to have wings on their houses now," remarked a carpenter to a house-owner the other day. "Yes," replied the other; "you remember what the adage says, 'Riches have wings.'"—[N. Y. Com. Adv.

Louis Bois of Quebec must have a boisterous home. He has had thirty children, of whom twenty four are living. "Singular to relate, some of them are girls though they are all Bois," is the pun the Graphic makes out of the circumstance.

A facetious boy asked one of his playmates why a hardware dealer was like a bootmaker? The latter, somewhat puzzled, gave it up. "Why," said the other, "because the one sold the nails, and the other nailed the soles."

"I have my own 'pinion on zis tariff question," remarked a seedy-looking individual on the street last evening. "What is your opinion," asked a gentleman near by. "My 'pinion, zur," replied the man, "is zat every feller hez his own right (hic) to go on a tariff 'e wants to." No one ventured to dispute his views.—[Alta-California.

George Dawson, in a recent speech in England, told a story of a Gloucestershire peasant's heroic curse. He had wrestled for a long time with a very tough piece of oak, on which he had been unable to make any impression, and at last burst out with the imprecation, "Dom they pigs that didn't eat thee when thou wast an acorn."

At the marriage of an Alabama widower, one of the servants asked if his master would take a bridal tour. "Dunno, sah; when old missus alive he took a paddle to her; dunno if he take a bridle to de new one or no."

Read this from the Worcester Press, not because it will make you laugh, but because it will serve for an awful example: "The Chinamen of the Pacific coast entice chickens from the owner's yard by imitating the cluck of the maternal fowl. They are the latest development in Quong-clucks."

A saloon keeper, hoping to scare off a free lunch fiend, said, "There's trichina in them sausages." The fiend took another mouthful, and said with difficulty, "Colonel, did—you—say—there—was—strychnine in—these—victuals?" "Yes, enough to kill a hog." "Well," chewing vigorously, "that's what my family—physician gives—me for—a tonic when—I hain't got no—appetite."

THE DUTY OF LIFE INSURANCE.

The consciousness of having used one's powers to promote the happiness and good will of our fellow beings is a good comfort when we find around us life rapidly reaching its end. Through life insurance alone an immediate provision is made for the protection of wife and family, though death occur at any day. The Universal Life of New York offers insurance one-fifth less than the usual premiums charged, is well managed, responsible company, by gentlemen of business experience and personal responsibility. Its policies are liberal and definite; losses paid promptly in thirty days; has $5,500,000 assets, $3,500,000 income, and $10,000,000 of insurance in force. The eminent success of this company is good evidence of the safety of its low rate of premiums. The lower the premium, the more life insurance is brought within the reach of the public. Low premiums of itself, is a pledge of economical careful executive management, the security required by law of all companies being precisely the same. To those contemplating a change or an increase of their life insurance we invite attention to these special features of the Universal life. C. Banning of this city is the agent for this district.

HUNT'S REMEDY is not a new compound; it has been before the public more than twenty years, and extensively used by all classes, both with and without the advice of a physician. HUNT'S REMEDY has been the means of saving from a lingering and frightful disease and death hundreds of our well-known citizens. HUNT'S REMEDY never fails to cure Dropsy and all Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs.

A Genial Restorative.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are emphatically a genial restorative. The changes which this great botanic remedy produces in the disordered organization are always agreeably though surely progressive, never abrupt and violent. On this account it is admirably adapted to persons of delicate constitution and weak nerves, to whom the powerful mineral drugs are positively injurious. That it initiates those processes which result in the re-establishment of healthful vigor is conspicuously shown in cases where it is taken to overcome that fruitful cause of debility, indigestion, coupled, as it usually is, with biliousness and constipation. Thorough digestion, regular peristaltic action and abundant secretion are results which promptly and invariably attend its systematic use. It is feasible, the best protective against malaria, and a first rate diuretic.

LYON'S KATHAIRON prevents the Hair from falling out or turning gray, renews its growth, and gives strength and vigor. It is delightfully perfumed, and makes a splendid dressing. It is the cheapest and most desirable Hair Tonic ever produced. Used by the elite. Price only 50 cents.

DR. THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER.—A perfect dentifrice.—Its action on the teeth is specific, removes tartar and discoloration, arrests decay, and keeps them sound, clean and white. It hardens the gums, sweetens the breath, and containing no acid, cannot injure the enamel. Its constant use is recommended to all, but especially to those who having good teeth wish to preserve them. 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Schenck's Standard Remedies.

The standard remedies for all diseases of the Lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and, if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it out, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed, mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at the principal office, corner of SIXTH and ARCH STS., Philadelphia, every Monday.

Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country.

MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1876.

A Bride's Good Clothes.—In her last letter from Paris Lucy Hooper describes the marvellous trousseau of the Princess Marie Alexandrina, of Saxe-Weimar, niece to the king of Holland, who is shortly to be married to the prince of Reuss. Surely her ladyship will have something of a wardrobe when she gets it all home. She has eighty dresses and twenty-five bonnets, and Providence only knows how many gloves, fans, cloaks, shawls and other trifles of that nature. She has twelve dozen each of all the smaller articles of lingerie and six dozen of the larger pieces, all of the finest cambric, only varying in the styles of their puffs and tucks, their laces or embroidery. These undergarments alone cost $12,000. The wedding dress is in white satin. The front of the skirt is covered with three wide flounces of magnificent point aguille, the second richest of modern laces. An immense court train, fully three yards long, is attached to the waistband of the skirt. It is bordered all round with three rows of lace separated by a narrow quilling of satin. There are also dresses trimmed with antique laces which have descended to the bride from some one of her royal ancestors, curious cobweb-like fabrics, but lacking the dainty beauty of artistic design which marks the laces of the present day. The costliest and most superb article in the trousseau is a tunic or overskirt of the royal point d'Alençon of incomparable fineness and beauty of design. This splendid and regal fabric had employed ten workmen for eight years, and had cost $10,000. The pattern was dahlias, forget-me-nots and ferns, grouped with marvellous grace, and encircled by a dainty tracery of branching tendrils delicate as frost-work upon the window-pane. The bride's travelling dress was of stamped black velvet trimmed with bands of Russian sable, and surmounted by a black velvet toque, also trimmed with fur and with a single bird with dove-colored and golden-green plumage. The cost of the whole trousseau is said to have amounted to $100,000.

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents; as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." Sewing Machine

STILL STANDS

UNRIVALLED.

All competent judges acknowledge it to be the simplest, the easiest, the quietest and the most easily handled of any shuttle machine now in market. It will sew with perfect stitch, from the finest muslin to the heaviest and firmest beaver cloth, or leather, without change of stitch, needle, thread or tension. Its percentage of increase of sales in 1874 was 90¾ per cent and 83¾ per cent. more than any other machine. In 1875 its ratio of increase was still greater, being 100 per cent. More than fifteen thousand other machines of first-class make have already been exchanged for it.

NEW IN PRACTICE!

THE VERTICAL BROILER

Has been put on the market with the full belief that it will REVOLUTIONIZE and SIMPLIFY this most important branch of Kitchen business.

TO BROIL

STEAKS, CHOPS, CUTLETS, FISH or FOWL, place them as seen in the open cut and set over the fire—after removing the stove cover.

NEITHER TURNING or ATTENTION is NEEDED.

The fat all falls into the trough and is conducted to the little jam outside. No SMOKE ESCAPES INTO THE ROOM.

ALL PARTS—TOP, BOTTOM, BOTH SIDES, AS WELL AS THE CENTRE OF THE FOOD, ARE DONE AT THE SAME TIME AND DONE ALIKE.

The Most Stupid Help Will Never Make a Mistake.

We claim the food is BETTER COOKED and the juices retained to a greater extent than can be done by any other known method of broiling

Tingley Automatic Heat Governor.

Price Reduced Until the First of July Next.

Price attached to furnace $18. Better pay for a Governor that will surely prevent the escape of poisonous gases from your furnace, than save your money, and breathe a tainted atmosphere, suffer from the inconvenience of cool draf, unevenly heated rooms, and danger from fire. You need a Governor more in the Spring months when you use the dangerous smoke pipe damper to check the fire.
